Writing About Spirituality

Glenn Jacob and the Worship Committee

You may know that we have a few aspiring writers here at Starr King. Join us today for a lay-led service as we hear from a few of them talk about the process, the craft, and the spirituality of putting words on paper.

Words of Joy

*By Joy Atkinson,
Interim Minister*

The late UU minister John Wolf expressed some of the reasons why we would want to support a Unitarian Universalist congregation:

You want to support it because it has a free pulpit. Because you can hear ideas expressed there which could cost any other minister his or her job. You want to support it because it is a place where children can come without being saddled with guilt or terrified of some 'celestial peeping-tom,' where they can learn that religion is for joy, for comfort, for gratitude and love...You want to support a Unitarian Universalist church because it is more concerned with human beings than with dogmas. Because it searches for the holy, rather than dwelling on the depraved...You want to support a Unitarian Universalist church because it can laugh...You want to support it because it insults neither your intelligence nor your conscience, and because it calls you to worship what is truly worthy of your sacrifice.

For these and so many other reasons, we who enjoy the great heritage of religious liberalism need to support our religious communities as generously as we can, so that we can continue to sustain vital and healthy congregations that embody our Unitarian Universalist values, care for and serve our members, and bring our message to the larger world.

As we move toward the annual pledge drive here at Starr King Church, which we will launch with a dinner on March 12th—the night before Canvass Sunday—may you be mindful of the many gifts and blessings that this congregation and its members bring into your lives: friendships and social connections, the religious education of your children, learning opportunities and activities for adults, Sunday morning services that bring the community together to celebrate life, care for one another, inspire action and provoke thought, and opportunities for service to the larger community through and beyond the organizations we support—community organizations such as South Hayward Parish, Family Emergency Shelter Coalition, Faith Alliance for a Moral Economy, and the new Eden Area Interfaith Council. In supporting this congregation, you are supporting and strengthening our unique Unitarian Universalist voice and our cherished principles of equality and justice, world community and human dignity, the open quest for truth and meaning, the democratic process, and deep reverence for the interconnected web of life on this fragile and beautiful planet.

Please consider making your annual pledge a generous one, to support the programs, activities, and values of this congregation as it enters a new phase in its ongoing congregational life. Thank you in advance for your support.

Joy

President's Report

February 2016

By Diana Dickerson

Hello fellow members and friends of the Starr King UU Church,

We are past the holidays and still looking for more water from el-naño-niño. Keep your fingers crossed that we will at least get our average annual snow pack. We could sure use a break.

We have lots of activities planned this month in addition to our Sunday Services that offer a chance to catch our breath and reflect. We have meditation, drumming, the ARMCA movie night, small group ministry, and we have the group read discussion on the 27th. There is also the small business of running the church.

There are lots of things keeping us all busy. We will be preparing our reports for the Annual Congregational Meeting. We will soon be announcing the date of the meeting and the deadline for reports to be included in the report. Wow, is it that time again? It must be because all our tax people are working long hours trying to find deductions.

Speaking of deductions the best one of all is to help the congregation.

Yes it will be the Canvas Kick-Off March 12. There will be a grand dinner and, hopefully, the rich desserts will make it easier to dig into our pockets. I hope everyone realizes the importance of this event; we have big dreams this year, and, while we know we can't make all of them come true, we need your support to maintain our staff and support the causes we believe in.

I know when I go to the store I can't believe the cost of things (I used to accuse "old" people of that), and I know a loaf of bread shouldn't cost over 2 bits, but it does now. I know there are trips to be taken, toys to be had, and for some a meal that can barely be afforded, but the church is valuable in my life and I know it is for those who are reading these words. That is why I am asking you to consider upping your pledge this year; please consider raising your pledge by 10%, 15%, or any amount you can. Please be generous, as we have dreams and responsibilities to you and our community.

In Service Together,
Diana

March RE Theme is Technology

This month we premier two Techshops for RE. The first will introduce Raspberry Pi computers. The second will focus on software and basic programming with SCRATCH. Roy Dickerson, our tech guru, will spearhead the effort to teach technology to our youngest and brightest.

The goal of these Techshops is to spark the imaginations of our young ones with technology. Raspberry Pi and SCRATCH were designed to introduce computer technology to youth and to engage them in using skills that will enable them to thrive in the 21st Century workplace. If our youth respond enthusiastically, we envision organizing a SCRATCH Coding Club after church services on a monthly basis.

In keeping with the technology theme, we will take a field trip to the San Francisco Airport this month to get a sneak preview of the new control tower. How does this relate to Religious Education? The ability to communicate and operate in the modern world has been enhanced by technological advances. These serve, above all else, to connect us to each other and the world around us. Simply put, technology is awe inspiring.

Live Your Values!

Allison

Notes from the Search: Halfway Through the Interviews

Your Search Committee is excited to report that we are halfway through the pre-candidate interviews. We have two more, in early and in mid-March. Then we will be meeting the third week of March to identify our final candidate.

We have been blessed with amazing candidates for our pulpit! The process has been intensive, the interviews deep and wide, and the sharing personal and candid. We are keeping all of your needs, wants, and dreams in our hearts and minds as we explore the possibilities with each of these ministers.

Each of the ministers we have spoken with has been extremely different from each other, except in the area of intelligence, passion for ministry, insightful questions for us, originality, and commitment to the process. The Search Committee has worked many hours to explore with these people whether there is a fit. We have at times felt like we'd like to bring all of them home with us! 😊

However, we are narrowing in on our candidate. We feel in our hearts that we are close to finding that person who will be working with all of us over the next many years. In fact, we will know who that person is in just six weeks! By the second week of April, we will have settled on the candidate we will present to you for your all-important assessment and, hopefully, approval.

Thanks for hanging in there with us!

Heidi Green and the rest of the Search Committee

Hike on March 12

Let's do an 8 mile round trip hike to the former home of the Ukrainian preacher Agapius Honcharenko in a rarely visited part of Garin Regional Park in Hayward. Bob and Sandy Simoni are leading the hike and will meet with you at the Ziele Creek trailhead on Ziele Creek Drive at 10 am. Parking is FREE.

The first part of the hike is 4 miles mostly uphill through some woods, open hillsides, and part of a residential neighborhood. Once the group arrives at the old farm, there will be a picnic lunch in the shade of some big trees before exploring the area. (Bring your own picnic lunch and plenty of water).

The hike down will be on a slightly different route, and the group should be back between 2:30 and 3 pm. For those who want to do a shorter hike of 4 miles round trip that has a lot less elevation gain, meet the group at 11 am at the halfway point on Carden Lane by the soccer field near the Stonebrae elementary school.

Contact Bob Simoni for further details at 510-205-2217.

Canvass Weekend: March 12 and 13

Starr King UU Church Canvass for the fiscal year 2016 (beginning in July) will be March 12 and 13. We're doing it a little different this year. Members will be contacted by fellow church members to arrange for canvass visits. But first, dinner! Canvass begins with dinner on Saturday, March 12. Join us at 6pm for an evening of food and fun to celebrate our community. On Sunday, worship service will focus on the canvass and its role in nourishing the church. That afternoon, we'll visit with each other to share our hopes, our visions, and our financial commitments to support the church in the coming year.
