PJAT MOVIE NIGHT

EARTH EMERGENCY

JUNE 10, 7-9PM VIA ZOOM

<https://us02web.zoom.us/j/9796339783?pwd=ZmhFOtA1T0JRa3JvV0ZzZDVkd1VUUT09>

This revealing film examines how human activity is setting off dangerous warming loops that are pushing the climate to a point of no return--and what we need to do to stop them. With captivating illustrations, stunning footage and interviews with leading climate scientists as well as support from Greta Thunberg. 'Earth Emergency' adds the missing piece of the climate puzzle.

PJAT will send a reminder email with the same link a few days before the movie night.

You can click here to join the movie night at 7pm on Friday June 10th.

EARTH EMERGENCY

The background of the lower half of the page is a photograph of two large, jagged icebergs floating in the ocean. The sky is a mix of blue and orange, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. The water is dark blue with some whitecaps. The text 'EARTH EMERGENCY' is overlaid in large, white, sans-serif capital letters.

Sharing thoughts...

“What Just Happened Here?”

I witnessed two young children understanding the process of honoring one another with dignity.

Scenario...

We were opening up our circle by chiming a musical instrument, the triangle. Ramona called out first, “My turn”, but Olly was first to grab the instrument. Ramona told him several times that it was her turn first. She called it. He did not relinquish the triangle, his reasoning was he reached for it first, therefore it was his turn. Olly tried to chime the triangle. He was unsuccessful. He was holding it incorrectly and only got a muted sound. Ramona attempted couple of times to reach for it, but Olly pulled back and continued to be unsuccessful at chiming it.

Ramona then said, “if you let me have my turn I can show you how to ring it.” Olly paused for a moment, thought, and handed the triangle over to her. Ramona held it by the string and chimed it. Afterwards, handed it back to Olly, where he had his turn and was able to do it! Both were happy.

What did we observe? Children learning to trust, respect one another, develop a compromise, create an agreement and problem solve where both benefited. Remarkable. It is also another example of how two people can have the same experience, have opposite opinions, both being right, and still work out a satisfying solution.

Happy Heart Circle Time

We spent this month exploring the importance of community and the value of creativity. Creativity is a product of a unique friendship between our brain and heart. We used that special “friendship”, and created solutions to a problem.

The children were presented with a challenge while understanding the importance of community. The challenge was, a little bird was very thirsty and could not reach the water in the glass. The children were each given a rock and asked how can we, as a community, help the bird. They came up with several ideas, making a rock latter, a rock bridge, a rock slide and.....Can you all think of the third?

Let's not forget our community pizza. We all contributed to it in one way or another. Best snack ever!!

Family Project Time

The projects supported the themes this month. Using their creativity, the children were given a handful of pipe cleaners and asked to use that "special friendship" and make something, (I did not provide a demo for this one. They were all on their own)

Another challenge was to get a styrofoam ball into the cup without using our hands. The children were given tools, two popsicle sticks, a pipe cleaner and tape. We came up with at least 3 different ways. For Mother's Day, renaming it to People Who Love Us Day, made art from our heart and finally we played Balloon Bongo, using paper plate paddles, (representing community), keeping the balloon from falling to the ground.

We did a project representing how our hearts feel when we are a part of a loving community...bubbly

Community Garden

Our garden is growing and growing, just like our children. We harvest our first crop, radishes. I will admit, this was not a popular food for our snack. Thank goodness we had a back up of cheese and crackers, though the children did enjoy pulling the radishes out from the ground. Come, visit and eat a radish. LOL.

Class Room Updates

Our classroom is always evolving. We introduced sewing. The children made small "stiffies", (very small pillows) and draw sting bags. We are offering a free art space where the children can freely use available art supplies, different mediums and embrace the joy of creativity.
